Deborah Vaughn is an operations manager, specializing in event planning, logistics and data management. Her background in finance and auditing, easily positions her for projects requiring extensive attention to detail.

In the area of finance, Deborah began her career as a sales auditor for a large department store. She later worked in a position where her duties involved securing funding for daily operations through borrowing and investing. Maintaining adequate cash resources sometimes required interacting with international banks in the exchange or hedging of foreign currency for positive cash positioning. All aspects of the job involved extensive planning and reporting.

As an event planner and education coordinator, Ms. Vaughn developed the training curriculum and logistically planned and managed numerous seminars for exposition managers. She was responsible for selecting the venue, designing the workshops, securing the speakers and managing the registration. Deborah has more recently served as project manager for three major expositions where her responsibilities included designing the exhibit space, managing the logistics of move-in/out, scheduling coverage and overseeing the overall budgets and operation of the booths.

Deborah joined Phelco Technologies, Inc. in December 2006. She brings over 25 years of experience to the Phelco team. Ms. Vaughn's finance and logistical background positions her to help Phelco develop and maintain strategic client and business partner relationships. Her experience and commitment position her to be a critical factor in the continuing growth of the company.
